Vlad Zinovyev is a corporate associate in the New York office of Gibson Dunn. He is a member of the Mergers & Acquisitions, Energy & Infrastructure, Power & Renewables, and Cleantech Practice Groups.

Vlad advises on complex domestic and cross-border transactions in the energy and infrastructure sectors across the United States and the Middle East, with a focus on M&A, private equity investments, joint ventures, and project development arrangements. He also has additional expertise in equity and debt capital markets and broader corporate finance matters.

He has represented sovereign-owned entities, public and private companies, private equity and asset management firms, and financial institutions in connection with projects and transactions across the United States, the Middle East, Asia, and Europe. His industry experience includes renewable and conventional power generation, storage, transmission and distribution, energy transition fuels and technologies, petrochemical and industrial projects, utilities, as well as metals and mining.

Vlad previously worked in Gibson Dunn's Abu Dhabi office, and before that across the Beijing and London offices of another international law firm.

Vlad received his LL.M. from the University of California, Berkeley School of Law, M.Sc. from King's College London, and LL.B. from Saint Petersburg University. He is admitted to practice in the State of New York and in England and Wales, and is fluent in Russian and Mandarin Chinese.
