Accolades | August 12, 2020

Federal Bar Council American Inn of Court

New York partner Lee Dunst was appointed as a member of the Federal Bar Council American Inn of Court. The Inn of Court's mission is to foster collegial interaction between the Bench and Bar through programs and informal discussions that promote the ideals of professionalism, mentoring, ethics and legal skills. The appointment was made on August 11, 2020.

Lee Dunst has more than two decades of experience handling significant white collar criminal and civil investigations, as well as complex civil litigations. His practice covers a wide range of government investigations and white collar criminal and regulatory matters, as well as general commercial litigation, including securities class action cases, accountants liability cases, and general business disputes.
