Ahead of the release of its full list of Rising Stars of European Finance for 2025 — which celebrates the most talented professionals under the age of 40 working in financial and professional services in the U.K. and Europe — the Financial News published a profile of Gibson Dunn London partner Kavita Davis. Kavita discusses her work over the past 12 months, describes how she navigates challenges, and offers some advice to those starting their first role in law. “Be open to new experiences and seize opportunities to work on different projects,” she says. “This will help you learn, grow, and enhance your problem-solving skills. Also, always be focused on the long game.”
