Media Highlight Gibson Dunn's Addition of "Marquee Dealmaker" Clay Brett in Houston

In the Media | August 31, 2026

The recent arrival of partner Clay Brett in Houston generated prominent media coverage from leading legal and industry publications, highlighting the firm's continued growth at the intersection of energy and private equity.

Bloomberg Law described the move as "adding another marquee dealmaker in one of the busiest energy legal markets in the US," noting that Clay brings "experience on both the law firm and principal-investor sides of deals."

Texas Lawyer reported that Clay had built a global private equity practice that demands "an elite global platform such as the one at Gibson Dunn." In his interview, Clay highlighted the firm's connections to top Wall Street dealmakers and its "top flight" practices in London, Dubai, and Singapore.

The Deal noted that his addition "continues Gibson Dunn's expansion of its Houston energy and transactional practices."
