A report in The Wall Street Journal (subscription required) about the launch of ADL Legal Action Network powered by Gibson Dunn notes that the network includes some of the biggest law firms in the U.S. It enables individuals anywhere in the country to report incidents, which are then reviewed by a steering committee that can connect people with thousands of the nation's top lawyers.

"We are building an army of lawyers who will be a virtual law firm dealing with these problems," said Gibson Dunn partner Orin Snyder, who is leading the efforts.

The launch of ADL Legal Action Network has been reported by a number of media outlets, including Reuters, The American Lawyer, Law360, The New York Post, Bloomberg Law, and others.
