GIBSON DUNN

Partner Matt Axelrod’s Remarks During Export Control Webinar Reported in Export Compliance Daily

In the Media | May 30, 2025

Export Compliance Daily

Partner Matt Axelrod’s remarks during a recent webinar co-hosted by Gibson Dunn and the risk intelligence firm Kharon have been reported extensively in the Export Compliance Daily article “50% Rule Could Make Entity List Additions More Difficult, Former BIS Enforcement Chief Says.” In the webinar, Navigating the Evolving Landscape of Export Controls: Trends, Challenges, and Strategies, Matt and other industry leaders discussed the latest trends in export controls program developments, reviewed recent enforcement trends, and provided insights on what to expect going forward.

Read the article, "50% Rule Could Make Entity List Additions More Difficult, Former BIS Enforcement Chief Says," in Export Compliance Daily.

Related People

Matthew S. Axelrod

Related Capabilities

Sanctions and Export Enforcement

© 2026 Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. All rights reserved. For contact and other information, please visit us at www.gibsondunn.com. | www.gibsondunn.com