GIBSON DUNN

Robert Blume Co-Authors Dow Jones Risk Journal's "The Value of Nothing Bad Happening"

In the Media | November 2, 2026

Dow Jones Risk Journal

Partner Robert Blume is co-author, along with Nscale chief legal officer Adam Rosman, of the Dow Jones Risk Journal's "The Value of Nothing Bad Happening," the first in a three-part series on measuring the value of a compliance program. In this article, they explore why a compliance program that works is so hard to defend and share lessons that can be learned about measuring absences from different fields.

Related People

Robert C. Blume

© 2026 Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. All rights reserved. For contact and other information, please visit us at www.gibsondunn.com. | www.gibsondunn.com