Stevie Pearl Discusses U.S. Department of Justice's Challenge to the JetBlue/Spirit Merger on "Antitrust Rewind" Podcast

In the Media | September 30, 2026

Of counsel Stevie Pearl was a guest on the inaugural episode of the "Antitrust Rewind" podcast, which focuses on the U.S. Department of Justice's challenge to the merger between JetBlue and Spirit.

Stevie's practice focuses on antitrust litigation, merger review, and government investigations. She brings a unique perspective from her recent tenure as a trial attorney in the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust Division, where she led complex investigations and litigated high-profile merger cases in the Transportation, Energy & Agriculture Section.
