Webcasts | January 15, 2025

Please join us for a briefing where we provide an in-depth legal perspective on the critical regulatory compliance issues companies must address when preparing for an Initial Public Offering (IPO) and operating as a newly public company. Emphasizing the importance of robust compliance frameworks, we examine key legal risks associated with OFAC (Office of Foreign Assets Control) sanctions, Anti-Money Laundering (AML) regulations, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), and other emerging regulatory concerns such as climate change disclosures and diversity requirements. This session is designed for legal professionals and executives seeking to mitigate compliance risks and establish a foundation for ongoing regulatory adherence in the post-IPO environment. Key topics include:

- OFAC and AML Compliance: Understanding sanctions, money laundering risks, and the controls necessary to mitigate them.
- FCPA Considerations: Navigating anti-bribery and corruption regulations in international operations.
- Climate Change Disclosures: Meeting the growing demand for environmental impact reporting.
- Diversity and Inclusion Requirements: Addressing stakeholder expectations and legal mandates for diversity in the workplace and boardroom.
- Compliance Program Implementation: Considerations and steps for developing and implementing a comprehensive compliance program to minimize risks during the IPO process.
- IPO Diligence and Disclosure: Preparing to meet the scrutiny of regulators, investors, and underwriters in the due diligence and disclosure phases.
