GIBSON DUNN

Webcast: U.S. Criminal Law and Corporate Enforcement Developments in 2025

Webcasts | February 3, 2026

Join our panelists as they survey developments in the shifting U.S. criminal legal and corporate enforcement landscape. Topics covered include Department of Justice corporate enforcement policies and priorities in the Trump administration, recent corporate criminal enforcement case studies, and key Supreme Court criminal law decisions in 2025.

MCLE CREDIT INFORMATION: This program has been approved for credit in accordance with the requirements of the New York State Continuing Legal Education Board for a maximum of 1.5 credit hours, of which 1.5 credit hours may be applied toward the areas of professional practice requirement. This course is approved for transitional/non-transitional credit. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP certifies that this activity has been approved for MCLE credit by the State Bar of California in the amount of 1.5 hours. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP is authorized by the Solicitors Regulation Authority to provide in-house CPD training. This program is approved for CPD credit in the amount of 1.5 hours. Regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (Number 324652). Neither the Connecticut Judicial Branch nor the Commission on Minimum Continuing Legal Education approve or accredit CLE providers or activities. It is the opinion of this provider that this activity qualifies for up to 1.5 hours toward your annual CLE requirement in Connecticut, including 0 hour(s) of ethics/professionalism. Application for approval is pending with the Colorado, Illinois, Texas, Virginia, and Washington State Bars.

PANELISTS: Stephanie Brooker is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office and Co-Chair of the firm's White Collar Defense and Investigations Practice Group. She handles a wide range of white collar matters, including internal investigations, regulatory enforcement defense, white collar criminal defense, complex cross-border investigations and compliance counseling. She regularly advises boards, financial institutions, global companies, and individuals in interactions with regulators and in navigating sensitive enforcement exposures. Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Stephanie served as a prosecutor at the U.S. Department of Justice. John Chesley is a litigation partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office whose practice focuses on white collar enforcement, internal investigations, and government?facing litigation. He represents corporations, board committees, and executives in matters involving the FCPA, procurement fraud, sanctions enforcement, securities issues, antitrust, whistleblower claims, and other government enforcement priorities. John has significant trial experience in federal and state courts and has served as the Interim Chief Ethics & Compliance Officer of a public multinational company, giving him first-hand insight into global compliance program challenges and practical risk mitigation. Stuart F. Delery is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office and a member of the firm's Litigation, Crisis Management, and White Collar Defense & Investigations practice groups. He previously served as Acting Associate Attorney General of the United States, overseeing the civil and criminal work of multiple DOJ divisions, and now represents corporations and individuals in complex regulatory litigation and government investigations, including matters involving contractors and grant recipients. Michael S. Diamant is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office and a member of the firm's White Collar Defense and Investigations practice. He leads internal investigations, defends corporations and executives in criminal and regulatory

Related People

Stephanie Brooker

John W.F. Chesley

Stuart F. Delery

Michael Diamant

Melissa L. Farrar

Dani R. James

© 2026 Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. All rights reserved. For contact and other information, please visit us at www.gibsondunn.com. | www.gibsondunn.com matters (including FCPA work), and advises on compliance program design and privilege strategy in high-stakes environments. Melissa Farrar is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office and a member of the White Collar Defense and Investigations group. Her practice is concentrated in white-collar defense, internal investigations, and corporate compliance. She advises multinational clients on matters such as the FCPA, False Claims Act, anti-money laundering, export controls, and securities and accounting fraud, and also supports organizations in structuring privilege strategy and compliance program assessments. Dani R. James is a partner in Gibson Dunn's New York office and a member of the firm's White Collar Defense and Investigations Practice Group. A former federal prosecutor in the Southern District of New York, she represents companies and executives in complex criminal, regulatory, and civil matters involving allegations such as insider trading, corruption, and FCPA violations. She also has extensive experience conducting internal investigations and advising boards and committees on compliance and litigation strategy. © 2026 Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. All rights reserved. For contact and other information, please visit us at www.gibsondunn.com. Attorney Advertising: These materials were prepared for general informational purposes only based on information available at the time of publication and are not intended as, do not constitute, and should not be relied upon as, legal advice or a legal opinion on any specific facts or circumstances. Gibson Dunn (and its affiliates, attorneys, and employees) shall not have any liability in connection with any use of these materials. The sharing of these materials does not establish an attorney-client relationship with the recipient and should not be relied upon as an alternative for advice from qualified counsel. Please note that facts and circumstances may vary, and prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome.

Related Capabilities

White Collar Defense and Investigations