

Will Summers Speaks to Law.com International About Dealmaking Outlook for H2 2025

In the Media | August 20, 2025

Law.com International

Partner Will Summers has shared his outlook for the M&A market with Law.com International, anticipating a strong rebound in the second half of 2025. Will pointed to the strength of the debt finance markets, noting continued demand for new issuance across the broadly syndicated loan and high-yield bond markets, as well as from private credit, providing liquidity to support new M&A activity. "After a busy August we are expecting a resurgence in M&A dealmaking in the second half of the year, with a strong pipeline, particularly in tech, healthcare, energy, infrastructure, aerospace and defence, and services," he said.

Related People

Will Summers

Related Capabilities

Mergers and Acquisitions